LOCAL MATTERS.

Rises tomorrow at 4:53 a. m. and sets 7:21 p. m. High water at 2:51 a. m. and 3:21 p. m.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.—For this section partly cloudy tonight; Saturday showery; light to fresh easterly winds.

RIVER NOTES.—The steamer Washington has gone to Newport News, and will go in the dry dock there for her annual repainting and overhauling. While the steamer Washington is off the route the steamer Newport News will do service in her place.

The work of taking shad eggs and spawning for hatching at the Bryant's Point fishing station of the United States fish commission came to an end last week and Saturday last a large portion of the force of employees were laid off for the season. Capt. L. E. H. Brown, with a small force of assistants, is finishing the work at the station and is making preparations to close it up. As the fishing season this year was poor, comparatively few shad eggs were taken. The young fish which have been hatched at the station will be shipped to various parts of the country for use in stocking streams with P. m. shad.

A letter from Heathsville, Va., says Captain B. H. Murphy, of Westmoreland county, who conducts a wood and lumber yard in Washington city, will run three small freight steamers from the Potomac river wharves to Washington, beginning in the near future, and continuing through the summer months. While our freight to and from Washington are very small compared with those to and from Baltimore till the line is going to be a great convenience to our people.

It is believed that at least two-thirds of all the groceries consumed in the counties of the Northern Neck, especially those along the Potomac, come from Alexandria houses. These offer competition to the Western Lines of steamers also, and may afford us still greater advantages by awakening them to the demands of our people and giving us cheaper and more efficient service. The Western Company has been especially good to us, yet in its system of freight charges there is a great deal of unfairness, which is believed the new accommodations will to some degree lessen.

The steamer Dennis Simmons arrived here this morning from Washington, N. C., with her flag at half mast in respect to the death of her owner, Mr. Dennis Simmons, who died at Washington on Wednesday.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT.—The proprietors of the Virginia Glass Works in West End have been conscious for some time of the fact that bottles were being stolen from their premises almost nightly. Mr. Peter Astrey, the superintendent, and Mr. Arthur, the watchman, last night determined, if possible, to capture the thief or thieves. Their efforts were not in vain, as during the night a young man named French Jones appeared at the works. He carried a basket and after breaking open a box proceeded to fill his receptacle. Mr. Astrey stepped forward and took him in charge and with the assistance of the watchman detained him until Officers Griffin and Roberts arrived who took Jones to the station house. The Mayor this morning fined the accused $5, and if he fails to pay the amount he will go on the chain gang for the next twenty days.

BODY FOUND.—The body of Eugene Flynn, of Washington, who was drowned below the Long Bridge at 2 o'clock last Sunday morning, was found floating in the Potomac near this city yesterday morning. It was first sighted by a resident of Alexandria who was out on the river in a sailboat, and he at once took steps to notify the harbor police of Washington and later it was conveyed to this city. There were no marks of violence upon the body and the examination showed that the unfortunate man had met his death by drowning. Flynn met his death by falling from a rowboat while on his way with four companions from the foot of Seventh street, Washington, to Jackson City, on the Virginia side. Flynn was thirty years old and was a tinner by occupation.

D. A. R. — Mt. Vernon Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held their monthly meeting yesterday evening at the residence of Mrs. Dabney Herndon on Prince street, when the following officers were elected: Regent, Mrs. Robert W. Hunter; Vice Regent, Miss Annie Norton; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Mary G. Powell; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Samuel L. Monroe; Treasurer, Miss Caroline Wise; Historian, Mrs. Dabney Herndon; Registrar, Mrs. Albert Brockett. After the business meeting, the chapter was handsomely entertained by Mrs. Herndon.

FEMALE BELLIGERENTS.—A fight occurred on north Lee street yesterday afternoon between three women, neither of whom was much hurt, although some unconvincing language was used. Several men who had been cited to appear and testify failed to appear this morning when the case came before the Mayor. A female, however, was the mater and witness and the accused made no statements in defense. One was dismissed, it appearing that she was not at fault, and the other two were fined $5 each. One had not the necessary wherewithal and was locked up.

GRAND MILITARY REVIEW.—Pawnee Bill and his hundreds of mounted heroes are coming to Alexandria on the 19th instant. Many additions have been made this year and now his famous Wild West is numbered among the big shows of the world. Detachments from the armies of the world with a battery of artillery in dazzling military reviews is one of the many new features. The J. Venile Wild West for the children is an innovation that should startle and please all the little folks.

FAILED TO APPEAR.—Officers Nicholson and Howson last night arrested Richard Jones, colored, who was charged by Robert Smith, also colored, with assaulting him with a knife and threatening to kill him. The trouble occurred in the northwest corner of the city. When the case was called this morning the complainant could not be found and the Mayor dismissed the case.

Isaac Eichberg & Son will sell for a few days 1,000 yds. of Loom Bleached Cotton Remnants for 6c a yard.

SCARCITY OF SMOKED HERRING.

It has been observed by many persons who have seen fishing seasons come and go for the past half a century that with the passing away of many other features of the old-time season the smoked herring seems destined to become a thing of the past. They have not vanished entirely, although but few are seen now-days, but most of those are, from one cause or another, unpalatable. Inferior salt is used or there is some defect in the curing or smoking. To many a smoked Potomac herring is very inviting at times, but most people who purchased the fish this spring found after broiling them that it was necessary to disinfect their houses, while the fish found their way into slop barrels. The smoking of herring was a prominent feature of the old-time fishing season. Thousands, bright, crisp and juicy specimens, were consumed in Alexandria. Equally as many would be purchased now if the same care and means were used in preparing them. A reader of the Gazette in commenting upon this change in conditions last night said he had for a long time been unable to procure the article he wanted in Alexandria, but had found the ante bellum smoked herring in Washington and had purchased a supply. It is hoped that the above hint will be sufficient to cause some enterprising individuals to reproduce the old-time smoked herring next spring. It only requires the use of proper salt and some care to accomplish it.

A FINE PIECE OF WORK.—William Chaucer's Sons have just completed probably what is the prettiest piece of marble work ever executed in Alexandria—at least such is the verdict of all who have inspected it. It is in the form of tablets which are to adorn the Church of Our Father, corner of Thirteenth and L streets, Washington. They are in remembrance of Addie S. Pettengill, a daughter of John C. Clark, formerly of this city, and True E. C. Pettengill, one of the pioneers of Universalism, her late father-in-law. The tablet to the first is in the design of a scroll bordered with ivy. That to Mr. Pettengill is also a scroll, but surrounded by oak leaves. The scrolls and leaves all appear in bold relief, producing a beautiful effect. The work was executed from a rough pencil sketch of pure white American statuary marble. The tablets would be an embellishment to Westminster Abbey and will attract attention anywhere. It is a matter of pride to all Alexandrians that such orders can be filled here. The tablets will be placed in position early next week.

FOUL CELLARS.—Lieutenant Smith, who with the other officers has been endeavoring to place the city in a sanitary condition before the arrival of the heat waves, discovered that some cellars on the west side of Royal street, between King and Cameron, were in such a condition as to prove a menace to the health of the neighborhood. He promptly notified the occupants and owners, but no steps were taken toward abating the nuisance, and this morning Mayor Simmons made a personal inspection of the premises complained of. He found water (the surface of which was from) two feet deep in some cellars from which foul odors emanated. The owners, agents and occupants were cited to appear at the station house at eleven o'clock to show cause why they should not be fined for maintaining nuisances. The accused were dismissed with the understanding that they would abate the nuisances at once.

THE MISSING WOMAN.—The whereabouts of Mrs. Lizzie Flowers, who mysteriously disappeared from the residence of Mr. Llewellyn Jenkins, on Wolfe street, Monday morning, are still unknown to her husband, relatives and friends, and much anxiety is experienced by them. The last time she was seen she was proceeding down Duke street. This was on the morning she left home. She was dressed simply in her house clothes. Her relatives at Riverside Park, Washington and other near-by places have been communicated with. They know nothing of her whereabouts. It was stated yesterday that Mrs. Flowers was a middle-aged lady. Such is not the case. She is about 21 years old.

ANNUAL MEETING.—The annual meeting of the Alexandria Kindergarten Association will be held tomorrow night in Peabody Hall, at eight o'clock. Miss C. A. Watkins, the supervisor of kindergartens in connection with the public schools of Washington, will give a practical talk on the value of training the minds of the young according to the system of Froebel, the founder. In addition, there will be reports by the officers, interspersed with music. Members of the association, and all others interested in this important question, are cordially invited to attend.

FIRE AT A FACTORY.—A fire occurred a night or two ago at the garbage factory at Cherry Hill, on the Washington Southern Railway, about 25 miles south of this city, and Mr. Bland, one of the workmen, was seriously burned. The fire occurred in the dry house, and is supposed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion. The factory proper was not materially damaged and the fire was soon extinguished. Mr. Bland came to this city where he was attended by Doctor O'Brien.

FISHING IS GRADUALLY LAPSEING into its normal condition. One country wagon was at the wharf this morning. Receipts have about ceased. A few jags of fish occasionally come along, but they are not sufficient to supply the market house demand and that of the street vendors. Prices are soaring. Shad brought $38 per hundred in Washington yesterday and herring $7 per thousand.

REVIVAL SERVICES.—The revival services now being conducted in the Baptist Church by Rev. Dr. Crane, the evangelist, continue to attract large audiences. A number of persons have manifested interest in spiritual matters during the progress of the meetings. Dr. Crane will deliver an address at the Opera House on Sunday afternoon to men only.

ARRESTED.—The police this morning arrested Barney Richards and Ernest Mills, who are charged with disorderly conduct toward some soldiers at the Royal street station of the electric railway Wednesday night. The soldiers will be at the station house tomorrow morning when the case will be heard.

In the Corporation Court today in the case of Pulman vs. Jopling a decree was entered confirming the sale of property made on May 6 and appointing G. L. Boothie special commissioner to convey property to purchasers.

FUNERALS.—The funeral of Mrs. Sallie R. Little, who died Tuesday afternoon at the residence of Mr. Gregory, 307 south St. Asaph street, took place at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon from her late residence. The services were conducted by Rev. P. P. Phillips, and the interment was in St. Paul's Cemetery. A number of friends and acquaintances of the deceased attended the funeral.

The funeral of Hugh, the young son of Mr. O. J. Nugent, of 1203 King street, took place yesterday morning from his late home. Rev. Father M. J. Abern conducted the services. The interment was made in St. Mary's Cemetery.

MOUNT VERNON.—The Mount Vernon Ladies' Association adjourned today after a very pleasant and successful session of ten days. The attendance this year was the largest for some time, about twenty-five vice regents being present. The ladies have expressed to Col. J. A. de Lagnel, of this city, their highest appreciation for his loan to Mount Vernon of a chair which belonged to the mother of Washington and in which it was said Washington was nursed.

SLIGHT FIRE.—A slight fire in the woodshed of the yard of Mr. James E. Johnson, 112 south Pitt street, brought out the fire department a quarter before 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The flames were extinguished with a stream from the Columbia engine before any material damage had been done.
